

Briarwood Court Garden

Garden Location

The Briarwood Court Garden is located in River Oaks sections of Houston. The owners interest in plants and gardening is evident in the garden's impeccable care and the diversity of plant material. The garden is composed of a series of garden rooms that unfold along the sides and back of the house. These gardens range from highly structured architectural spaces to loose planterly compositions, intimate spaces to large formal gathering areas, and the contemporary juxtaposed with the traditional. Features include woodland plantings, arbor walk, pollarded sycamore alley, fountains, cottage garden, pergola and a secret white garden.
